Reflection

It's been a week of weeks here. Speaking of her experience, one woman said: "As Her Majesty was walking across the street from the Cathedral to the Church, my little heart was bursting with pride. Now we can get back to being the town I grew up in, where we were all neighbours." People of all hues were in Cathedral and Church on Tuesday. The Queen's hand of friendship and peace that day marked a new beginning, a new confidence. The level of respect and friendship we already have come into full focus. Especial thanks to the choir and to Helen Hamill, the music director, for the world-class music, during the presentations at St Michael's. Thanks to Irene for the flowers that have been the talk of the place. Special thanks also to Dean Hall and his team and community and to all the organisers. It was truly a joint effort, expressive of the one community in our town and county. Enniskillen will have other days, but Tuesday was one to remember.

Deaths: We pray for the recently deceased: Sam Darcy, Wexford.
May herest in peace.
