Reflection: For many people, faith is based on creeds, doctrine, and head knowledge. It's about mastering the "facts" and making sure you give the "right" answer when any spiritual question is asked. But best-selling author Margaret Silf believes that faith is not about mastery but about mystery, and that living in that mystery allows us to focus much less on religion and much more on relationship - a relationship with the Divine. In her new book, Simple Faith, Silf encourages us to rethink many of the teachings on faith that end up holding us back from experiencing the joy and freedom that a simple faith offers. In short but compelling chapters, Silf provides answers to many important questions of faith: Does life really have meaning? Is it true that God is love? Why do bad things happen to good people? Who is Jesus, and why did he have to die? Is faith really about saving our souls or about spending our lives doing good for others? Silf's overall message is very clear - faith is not knowing about God, but coming to know God, and that knowing this God requires us to accept the mystery that is God. For all who struggle with conventional religion, Simple Faith is a simple way to help draw closer to the Divine and find life-changing meaning in a new kind of faith.

October The Month of the Holy Rosary October has been associated with the Most Holy Rosary ever since the battle of Lepanto, Italy on 7 October 1571. At the battle a coalition of southern European Catholic maritime states, defeated the main fleet of the Ottoman Empire in five hours of fighting off the coast of Greece. The Ottoman navy was far superior to anything the western powers could muster. But Pope Pius V asked all Catholic nations to pray the Most Holy Rosary for the victory of the Christian forces. The surprising victory was attributed to the powerful intercession of Our Lady of the Rosary.
