Reflection: Silent Prayer Reflection: For years I've been trying to master the art of silent prayer. Sometimes my attempts find me staring at my shoes, thinking about the work I need to be doing. Other times, when I approach prayer with an open heart, I can feel my life, attitude, and perspective changing with every second I keep my eyes closed. Silence is difficult. It's confusing. What, exactly, is supposed to happen while sitting for long, potentially awkward periods of time? I'm still not confident about my answer, but I can share some of my experiences. First, every time I enter into silent prayer it takes quite a while to get situated. I'm thinking about the endless number of tasks that need to be done at my job and my apartment. Moreover, I have special projects, blog posts, videos, and, most importantly, people I need to connect with throughout the day. My mind never shuts off, unless I put my foot down and say, Enough is enough. (Jurell Sison is a 20-something Filipino-American living in Cleveland, Ohio.)

Deaths: We pray for the recently deceased: Patricia Margaret (Pauline) Bridge, Drumawill Park; Teresa Gaffney (nee Ferguson), Armagh late of Darling Street and Belcoo. May they rest in peace.
