Reflection

Experience has a way of awakening us and changing us all. It could be the experience of the birth of a child or the experience of a person committed to love us. It could be the experience of forgiveness when we need it. The experience of friendship can change us powerfully when we want to share. We might have been moved by the experience of a present that comes as a surprise. Again, there is the something profound in the moment of the death of another when all is prepared and ready. Another moving experience is the witness of courage and virtue. The world of nature can awaken and change something within us: the wakening of nature in spring; the fullness of nature in summer; the eloquence of nature in autumn; the bleakness of nature in winter. Such are the more powerful moments within which the presence of God's Holy Spirit can be discerned by a person of faith. Such is the Holy Spirit we celebrate on this Pentecost Sunday. Come Holy Spirit, fill the hearts of your faithful people and kindle in us the fire of your divine love.

clergy but truly recognised as 'co-responsible' for the Church's being and action.' that emerged more recently. Part of the remit of the Parish Pastoral Council will be to help support and to provide linkage between the various ministry groups. At their best, Parish Pastoral Councils foster and give expression to a parish sense of community and 'communio' (a Latin word that expresses togetherness and connectedness). As Pope Benedict XVI said at Castel Gandolfo last August, 'Feel the commitment to work for the Church's mission to be your own, through prayer, through study, through active participation in ecclesial life, through an attentive and positive gaze at the world, in the continual search for the signs of the times.' St Patrick came to share the Good News to the people of Ireland. We are doing what he did in a way.

Parish Census Pilot: In order to keep our parish records up to date, it is necessary to update our parish information. During the month of May, a number of parishioner households in certain areas of the parish will be contacted and asked to complete a Parish Census form. Advance notice of delivery of the census form will be given. The parish census volunteer will call at the house to deliver the form and will call back to collect it, in the sealable envelope provided.
